a Fred and Jerry were very excited. They are going to their grandfather's farm! "Hello Fred and Jerry!" Grandfather Joe smiled at them when they arrived. "How nice of you to visit!" "Wow!" They said.	b There were horses, ducks, goats, chickens, cows and pigs everywhere, different kinds of animals they rarely see.	c With a bucket full of molasses they went inside the barn, side by side, arm in arm.
d Fred and Jerry fed the horses with molasses. Each of them took a brush and started grooming them. "Neigh, Neigh!" The horses snorted happily. It's a rare treat for them to eat sweets as they were groomed by two small boys.	e Grandfather Joe showed them how to gather eggs. They went to the shed where the hens rest. You have to be really careful or the chickens might peck you.	f He warned. Carefully, he reached under one sleeping hen. The two boys watched in awe as they saw him holding an egg after a while.
g Jerry excitedly reached for an egg, but he was too clumsy. The hen was surprised and pecked his arm. "Ouch, ouch!" He cried.	h Laughing, Grandfather Joe took them to see the cows. Fred and Jerry helped grandfather to feed and milk them. Then they helped grandfather feed the pigs and the goats too.	i Late in the afternoon, they saw the ducks marching towards the pond. "Quack, quack, quack."
